—A little child of Jim D. Hollingshead, was badly burned about the throat and neck a few days ago. The little children were in the room playing, and just how the accident happened is not known.

—Estill Duke, son of Mr. L. N. Duke, living near Burton, Ohio county, Ky., on Sunday, February 5th, 1882, a daughter, weight eight pounds, Dr. Sam L. Berry presided. Mother is doing well and father extremely happy.

—Mr. C. D. Gorman, a highly respected old gentleman, who had been sojourning in Hartford for some time past, died in town on Saturday last, and was buried from the Methodist Church on Sunday evening. He leaves a family in West Virginia.

—A shooting affray occurred in town last Sunday, between a young white man named Henry Hartaway and the negro porter at the Washington House. Four shots each were exchanged, only one of which took effect and that in the negro.

—Mr. H. Wakeland, formerly one of the solid citizens of the county, returned from Texas last week, greatly improved in health and will please the country. He had been absent three days.

—Mr. Taylor Stevens, whose leg was broken by a falling tree last summer, and subsequently amputated by Drs. Berry and Hain, left here yesterday for Louisville, where he will have an artificial limb supplied.

—We were honored by a visit from Misses Bettie King and Zelma Gray, of Fordsville, last Saturday. Miss King is conducting the school at the Duke school-house, and we hear her spoken of very highly as an efficient teacher.

—Mr. Sam L. Berry killed his white dog last Saturday. He had hydrocephalus.

—Mr. W. H. Bowe has just about completed his new building on Market street. It will occupy it right soon.

—Dr. Ferry & Co's and Hiram Shibley A. Co's Garden and Flower Seeds for sale.

—Mr. H. W. Carter, of Fortville, contributed a lot of specimens to our cabinet Monday, consisting of a pair of antlers, a stone bearing a great resemblance to a potato, and a number of petrifications of a novel appearance. Mr. Carter will please accept our thanks. He is a Greenbacker and a faithful subscriber to the HERALD.

—Dr. W. H. Irvin, of South Carrollton, and Miss Lillian H. Mayes, of Franklin, Ky., were married on the 1st inst. Dr. Irvin is a promising young physician and the bride has the name of being one of the most accomplished young ladies in Southern Kentucky. We wish them a happy life.

—And still they come. We are beginning to get down in the good ones now, ain't we? Mr. W. P. Ellis of Ellis predict, a good man, well qualified, and true Democrat, is announced this week as a candidate for Assessor, subject to the Democratic primary election, Saturday, March 11th, 1882. He falls from the banner Democratic press of the county.

—We call the attention of our readers—the ladies in particular—to the card of Hogan & Co., dealers in Hair Goods, Louisville, Ky. We have been intimately acquainted with Messrs. Hogan & Co., for several years, and know them to be fair, honest dealers, and they keep decidedly the best assortment of goods in their line to be found in Louisville. Any of our friends that deal with them will confer a favor by mentioning the name of their advertisement in this paper.

—Ladies, your attention, please. One of the premiums in our Gift Distribution is a fine Celluloid Set, consisting of a nice comb, brush, mirror, and satin-lined box worth $7.50. Some one will get it; anybody would appreciate it. We send you the paper worth $2 a year for $1.50, and give you a chance at all of our nice premiums worth in the aggregate between $500 and $1,000. Subscribers at once, before the list is closed, for we will close it when we get 2,500 subscribers.

—A 10 year old son of Mrs. Wm. Dexfield was recently shot by another boy last Monday evening, the lead of squirrel and duck shot entering the upper portion of the left lung. Dr. Sam L. Berry was called in at once and pronounced the wound very serious, if not fatal. The poor boy was still alive when last heard from. Great care should be exercised, not only by boys but by adults as well, in handling firearms. Almost every week we record some accident resulting from the careless handling of guns or pistols.

—Among the many valuable premiums in our Gift Distribution will be found the Faithful Violin ever seen in the Green River country! It is a genuine Italian Violin, made by the celebrated Mazzolini, and is worth $35. We have already received it, including bow and box, and will have it on exhibition soon. Every musician hereabouts should subscribe for the Heald and take a chance for this superior instrument. We procure this violin through D. P. Faubus, 521 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky., who is known to be one of the leading dealers in the whole south and west in music and musical instruments. We have his guarantee that what we say of it is correct.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Ford's SEMINARY, Ohio county, Ky., January 29th, 1852.—1. Why is it that so many of the newspapers of Kentucky seem to have so great a dislike to the "Montgomery Man?"

2. Why is it we have in Ohio county a different man for Assessor to the one elected. 3. I have in my scrap book a piece of poetry entitled, "Betsy and I are Thru," and have been told that there is a piece entitled, "How Betsy and I Met It Up." 4. Is it a fact that an "Montgomery Man" can't get his 4. Where can I get "The Montgomery Man?" and the reply to it? If you cannot give the information wanted in regard to the above named pieces of poetry, doubtless your most judicious and learned friends will be able to do so.

5. Some who are in giving a description of places say it is so many feet above the level of the sea, what is meant by level of the sea or how did they level the level of the sea?

EXQUISITE JACK.

Answer.—General Stephen Burnbridge, during the war was military commander of the department of Kentucky, and was a most inhuman monster. By his orders men who never committed a crime were arrested and shot or hung with or without trial as suited the tyrant. His name is held in execration to this day, and especially so by the people of Southeastern Kentucky, where the most of their crimes were committed. The present breeze was raised by Burnbridge's sending a friend, one Dr. Owsley, of Shelby county, to Congress man Joe C. S. Blackburn for aid in securing a Federal office. Blackburn made some very cutting remarks about Burnbridge's career and character, which remarks Owsley repeated and Burnbridge attempted to refute. The press and the people took up Blackburn's quarrel, and "Burnbridge" Burnbridge was squelched.

In 1858 Mr. Armistead Jones was elected to the office of Assessor over Mr. D. L. Smith, our present Sheriff, by a very small majority, and he continued holding the office until the spring of 1881, when he resigned and Mr. Luther C. Duke, of Rockport, was appointed his successor.

3. Will Carlton wrote "Betsy and I are Out," and it is the best of his many good pieces. We do not know of "How Betsy and I Met It Up," but we once saw a turlesque or parody on the original entitled, "Betsy and I are in Again," which was quite humorous but possessed little other merit. This however, was no small matter, as he who makes a man laugh is greater than he who makes him weep?

4. Maj. H. T. Stanton, of Frankfort, Ky., wrote the "Montgomery Man." It is one of the best things yet produced by an American poet, and will never grow old. Do not know where you can get it. It shall appear ere long in the HERALD. There is no "reply" to it that we know of.

5. The earth is in the form of a globe, but so vast that any part of its surface is reckoned as a plane or level. The level of the sea is what the words imply, and the height of any locality above the level, is the number of feet the surface of the earth at the given point is above the level of the surface of the ocean. For example, you might dig a canal from the Atlantic ocean to Peltville and allow the water to flow in as long as it would. The distance from the surface of the earth down to the surface of the water would show the difference in the level of the earth and sea at that place. A more convenient way of finding it is to get a good engineer to make the necessary observations and calculations.

RESONATE.

You have allowed your bowels to become habitually evasive, your liver has become torpid, the same thing nills your kidneys, and you are just used up. Now be sensible, get a package of Kidney-Wort, take it faithfully and soon you will forget you've got any such organs, for you will be a well man, —Abeyon Leggs.

HOME LOVE.

Home love is the best love. The love that you are born to is the sweetest you will ever have on earth. You who are anxious to escape from the home nest, pause a moment and remember this is so. It is right that the hour should come when you, in your turn, should become a wife and a mother and give your best love to others, but that will be just in. Nobody—says a lover, nor a husband—will ever be so tender or so true as your mother or your father. Never again, after strangers have broken the beautiful bond, will there be anything so sweet as the little circle of mother, father and children, where you were cherished, protected, praised and kept from harm. You may not know it now, but you will know it some day. Whomsoever you may marry, true and good though he may be, will, after the love days are over and the honeymoon has waned, give you only what you deserve of love and sympathy and usually much less—never more. You must watch and to weary lest you lose that love which comes in through the eye, because the one who looked thought you beautiful. But those who have you, who loved you when you were that dreadful little one, a small baby, and thought you were exquisitely beautiful and wonderfully brilliant they do not care for loves that are fairer and finer than are more graceful than yours. You are their very own, and are better to them always than others. Christian at Work.

Watch Carefully Your Health.

Are your hands and feet cold? Does your pulse beat irregularly? Does your heart quickly palpitate at the least exertion, weariness, or nervous excitement? Your face often flushed from a rush of blood to the head? Are you troubled with dyspepsia, indigestion, or some urinary disorder? Beware! Death may at any time suddenly ensue from apoplexy. Do not delay. Your system needs some true medicinal tonic.

CONVERSE'S Elixirs.

Editor Herald: Mr. Ellis Widely, one of our live farmers, has recently purchased a lot of two-year-old mules, at an average price of about sixty dollars each. He will certainly make money by this investment.

Mr. James Mercer has been very sick, but under the care of that excellent physician, Dr. M. G. Pate, of Whitesville, he is rapidly recovering.

Mr. Geo. Gray, of Virginia, visiting relatives here and is now the guest of Mr. W. Kelly, this place.

Our excellent County Attorney might find something worthy his attention here. "A word to the wise, &c."

A short time ago some young men, calling themselves gentlemen, very greatly disturbed public worship at Mt. Zion. It is to be hoped that if nothing else will lead them to the practice of good manners, that they will be taught a lesson by a strict schoolmaster.

Mr. Peyton Taylor recently purchased the farm formerly owned by Mr. Isaac Troy, and is preparing to build a new residence. We regret to lose Mr. Taylor, for he is a good neighbor and citizen. We offer congratulations to the community where he goes. Our loss is their gain.

The candidates increase very muchly, if the announcement column in the HERALD may be used as data. If they all canvass thoroughly, they would do well to walk and take their rations with them. It won't do to turn a whole brigade loose on a drouth stricken country.
